From the Gentleman's Magazine for November last.

A LETTER in the Daily Post of the 26th, dated from Charles-Town in So. Carolina, having laid the ill Success at Fort St. Augustine on ill Conduct of------, some Particulars of which are, 1st That the Cattle taken at a Cow-pen of one Diego 25 Miles from the Town, May 12, were not distributed to the Soldiery. 2d, That the People might have entered the Town without Opposition, but were not suffered. 3d, That the Men were needlessly harrass'd. 4th, that Col. Palmer who was sent to Negro Fort, 2 Miles from the Town, with 135 Men to alarm the Spaniards, was not supported by ----, who staid 6 or 7 Miles off. 5th, That Col. Palmer being attack'd by 500 Spaniards, shot 3 of them after they had enter'd the Fort. 6th, That Capt. Warren was the Life and Spirit of the Cause. 7th, That the Volunteers, seeing no Prospect of succeeding under such mad Conduct, as they called it, daily went off; the following Answer was Published.

UPON seeing a Letter misrepresenting in the most false and malicious Manner, the late Expedition against St. Augustine; aiming thereby to defame the Caracter of a Gentleman, whose unwearied Endeavours for the publick Service, has greately impair'd his Health; and as I, who am a Captain in General Oglethorpe's Regiment, was present, and acted upon that Occasion as Brigadier Major, and must know the whole Transactions, I think it my Duty to take Notice of it.

As to the Cow-Pen it speaks of, it is a square Fort, with 4 Carriage Guns and 4 Swivel Guns, and had a Garrison of 47 Soldiers of the regular Troops, and 7 Negros, who were all made Prisoners of War. The Cattle found there, and in Parts adjacent, were distributed to the Kings Troops and the Carolina Regiment.

In respect to the Carolina People, being ready to enter the Town of Augustine without Opposition, it is entirely false, and without the least Foundation.

In regard to Colonel Palmer's Misfortune, who was killed in the first Fire from the Spaniards, he brought it upon himself by disobeying the Orders he received, which positively enjoyned his keeping in the Woods, and avoiding Action; and by acting contrary to the Advice of the Officers under his Command, some of whom were present when he received his Orders, and lodging himself in the Negro Fort Moosa, where they were surrounded and defeated; the Gates of which Fort, and the House within it, the General had before demolished.

With respect to the Carolina Volunters; that they did go away is certain, without Leave given, or ask'd, and their Cap[illegible] with them. A Captain of the Carolina Regiment [illegible] his Command in the Guard of the Trenches, without being reliev'd, or asking any Leave, and went with them: After such Behaviour, what Credit can be given to such Men, tho' term'd Persons of Note?

As to Capt. Warren, whose Name is mention'd to endeavour to throw an Odium elsewhere, I am convinced by the personal Acquaintance I have with him, that he will upon all Occasions do his Duty in the Service of his King and Country; as also Capt. Law and Capt. Townshend, that were ashore with him.

The Morning after we landed upon the Island of Anastatia, I stood by while Capt. Warren read to General Oglethorpe a Letter to Capt. Pearse, then Commodore, acquainting him of our landing, without any loss, and the Spaniards withdrawing from that Island; on which Capt. Warren said, all that was now necessary to secure the Reduction of the Place, was the taking of the Spanish Galleys, which Undertaking he would himself head with the King's Boats, under the Cannon of the Fort, if he would give him Leave. Several Councils of War were held on board his Maiesty's Ships by the Sea Captains, but Capt. Warren's Proposition was not undertaken.

Lest malicious People should suggest that I might be sent to England by General Oglethorpe on this Occasion, I solemnly declare, that I came at my own desire by his Leave, and had no Instructions from him, directly or indirectly, concerning this Affair, but my Regard to Truth, and Abhorrence of all false and malicious Reports whatsoever, have induced me to publish this, to which I set my Name.

Hugh Mackay.

Johnson's Court, Charing Cross, Nov. 29. 1740.

The following is the Extract of a Letter from Ensign Hugh Mackay, who commanded under Col. Palmer at Moosa, to Mr. John Mackay, of Tordurrock in the Shire of Southerland in Scotland, giving a more particular Account of the Action at Moosa in Florida, on the the 15*th of* June last, than has yet been published.

DEAR SIR, St. Andrews, Aug. 10, 1740

"I Wrote you a long Letter as I was going to the Indian Country with General Oglethorpe, and one or two since, but never had a Return to any. This goes under Cover to our Friend at London, to be forwarded to you; and shall only trouble you now by telling you that our General was last Summer before St. Augustine in Florida, he took all the Out-Guards, and over-run the Country, without Interruption, but had not sufficiency of Troops to take the Town of St. Augustine. The only Action worth mentioning in the Campaign, was upon the 15th of June last in the Morning.

Upon the 9th of June, the General ordered out a flying Party of Militia, Indians, and 13 Soldiers, in all making 137 Men, under the Command of one Col. Palmer, a Carolina Gentleman, an old Indian Warrior, a Man of great Perſonal Reſolution, but little Conduct; under him I commanded the Party, and had Orders to march from St. Diego, the head Quarters, to Mooſa, three Miles from St. Auguſtine, (a ſmall Fort which the Spaniards had held, but was demoliſh'd a few Days before by our General) there to ſhew ourſelves to the Spaniards, and thereafter keep moving from one Place to another to divert them, while the General took another Rout, and intended to come to Mooſa in five Days. The Orders were juſt and lawful, and might with ſafety be executed, had a regular Officer commanded; but poor Col. Palmer, whoſe misfortune it was to have a very mean Opinion of his Enemies, would by no means be prevail'd upon to leave the Old Fort, but there ſtaid thinking the Spaniards durſt not attack him; he was miſtaken as will appear preſently. Upon the 15th Day of June, about four in the Morning, we were attacked by a Detachment of 500 from the Garriſon of St. Auguſtine, compos'd of Spaniards, Negroes, and Indians, beſides a Party of Horſe to line the Paths, that none of us might eſcape; I expected this would happen, and therefore obtain'd Leave of Col. Palmer, the Commanding Officer, to order our Drums to beat to Arms at Three o'Clock every Morning, and ſo to have our Men in Readineſs 'till it was clear Day: Thus it was upon the fatal 15th of June, as I've ſaid, when the Spaniards attacked us with a very ſmart Fire from their ſmall Arms, in which Col. Palmer fell the firſt: We returned the Fire with the greateſt briskneſs that can be imagined, and ſo the Fire continued for ſome Time, but as unluckily we were penn'd up in a demoliſhed Fort, there was no room to extend; the Spaniards attempted to get in at the ruinous Gate, and our Party defended the ſame with the utmoſt Bravery; here was a terrible Slaughter on both Sides, but the Spaniards, who were five times our Number, got at laſt, by dint of Strength, the better; which when I ſaw, and ſome Priſoners made, I order'd as many of my Party then, as was alive, to draw off; we had great Difficulty to get clear, for the Spaniards ſurrounded the Fort on all Sides, however by the Aſſiſtance of God, got our Way made good, drew up in ſight of the Enemy, and retired, without being purſued, until we were in Safety. I had no more than 25 Men, and ſome of them very ill wounded, of which Number I was, for I received three Wounds at the Fort-Gate, but they were ſlight ones; ſeveral of the poor Highlanders, who were in this Engagement, and fought like Lions, loſt their Lives, ſome of them your Acquaintance. I commanded next Col. Palmer, as Captain of the Horſe on the Militia Eſtabliſhment, my Lieutenant was killed, my Cornet and Quarter-Maſter were made Priſoners of War, with four more of the Highlanders. Charles Mackay, Nephew to Capt. Hugh Mackay, who was Enſign of Militia, received five Wounds in the Action, and loſt one of his Fingers, and thereafter, rather than fall into the Hands of the Spaniards, ventured to ſwim an Inlet of the Sea about a Mile broad, and had the good Fortune to get to the Side he intended, and ſo to the General's Camp.

As the Indians fled ſeveral different Ways, no true Account is as yet heard of them, only that ſome of them were kill'd in the Action, and others wounded and taken Priſoners, I believe ſixty killed and twenty taken Priſoners of our whole Party; ſome of our Creek Indians who were taken by the Enemy, and to whom, to curry Favour with their Nation, Leave was given to return home, told me, that we kill'd great Numbers of the Spaniards at Mooſa, and that they were dying by fives and ſixes per Diem, after getting into the Town, ſo miſerably were they cut by our broad Swords; yet by their great Numbers they got the Day, but were ſadly mauled, otherwiſe had purſued me.

I had thought of being in Scotland this enſuing Fall, but as I'm Enſign to Capt. Hugh Mackay's Company, and he himſelf going home, I muſt lay Thoughts of going home quite aſide till another Occaſion. Pray make my Compliments acceptable to all Friends, and I am,

Dear Sir, Your moſt affectionate Couſin,
And humble Servant,
HUGH MACKAY.

Madrid, Nov. 29. The Duke de Montemar is deſign'd to have the Command of the intended Expedition to Italy. The Troops intended for that Purpoſe will conſiſt of 36 Battalions and 36 Squadrons. People are employ'd in all the Ports of this Kingdom to procure Tranſports for theſe Troops, which are to rendezvous at Barcelona. Some Difficulty it's apprehended will attend the tranſporting of ſo large a Force. The nine Men of War which are at Cadiz, will be ready to ſail in a Fortnight.

London, Nov. 29. We hear, that Recruits are raiſing with great Diligence and Succeſs throughout the Palatinate, as well as in the Dutchies of Berg and Juliers; and that the King of Pruſſia, who is alſo raiſing Recruits on the Frontiers, has order'd his Forces to be augmented with 10 Men in a Company; and that he has not only given Commiſſions for raiſing 10 Regiments more, and as many Squadrons, but appointed Perſons to negociate with Foreign Powers for Auxiliary Troops.

Dec. 10. Letters from Petersburg adviſe, that but a few Days before the Fall of the Duke of Courland, he had ſign'd an Order for raiſing Recruits, in order to complete all the Regiments of the Army, which would then conſiſt of 253000 Men, without including the Coſſacks, Calmucks, and Marines. It's reported that this Duke will be baniſh'd to Siberia, with ſome others who were the moſt ſtrongly attach'd to his Party. It's added, that the Dutcheſs his Wife was ſhut up in a Convent.

Edinburgh, Dec. 22. The Storm continues ſevere; it has been as hard a Froſt almoſt as laſt Year, tho' we hope it will not be of ſuch long Continuance. The Markets riſe; the Streets are crowded with Poor, ſome of which are Objects whoſe Caſes call aloud for Compaſſion. Many Accidents happen by Perſons being ſadly bruis'd by Falls. At Leith 'tis frozen beneath the new Key. All the Poſts are now irregular. This Morning it Snows hard.

PHILADELPHIA.

Laſt Friday Morning Philip Cane, ſuppoſed to be principally concerned in the Murder of Mr. Bunting (as mentioned in our laſt), cut his Throat in the Dungeon belonging to the Priſon; he was heard to ſtruggle, but before any Body could get to him, he was dead. His Body was the ſame Day expoſed to publick View in the Pound joining the Priſon, and afterwards drag'd out of Town and buried in a croſs Road.
